Promote Wellness with Gardening Giveaways that Grow Wildflowers, Herbs, or Veggies

Health and wellness are on all of our minds. As we spend more time at home, we need ways to feel good and keep our spirits up. Planting is an excellent way to do that — it engages the senses and is something we maintain and grow over time. It's no wonder seed sales are at an all-time high.

People want to plant, so now is the perfect time to share a promotional gardening gift.

Take a look at the next page of this flyer for plantable products that share a gift that grows. Each item is made with seeds and won't leave any waste behind.

*Choose from a range of seed types, including wildflowers, herbs, or vegetables!
